He came into the office of a real estate broker some time ago and demanded to see the safe, declaring that he was sent by the manufacturers to look it over.

The manager of the office refused, and when he became insistent, the police were called and the "safe inspector" was lodged in the city jail.

A month passed by quickly and the safe inspector again appeared at the office. "I came to apologize to you, and thank you," he said. "I had an idea that maybe I could 'get away' with something. But when I was arrested, I saw that I had 'pulled a boner.' I thought I'd be a criminal—and if I had been able to do what I planned to do, I would have been. But being arrested was a different story. As a safe broker I'm a good laborer—and I'm going to go back to work and earn an honest living."

In the November 8 edition of the Daily Pacific Builder, the following appeared:

"To the eight thousand or so employees on the payroll of his construction company, Irwin S. Chanin, New York builder said:

"You, like wage earners, have been saving your money for a rainy day instead of buying things you need, because you have been afraid you might lose your jobs. That rainy day hasn't come and we believe it will not.

"In return for our assurance that your job looks safe, buy that new clothing, that household furniture or whatever you would be buying if you were normal. Buy now because prices in most lines are at rock bottom and because your buying, with that of other wage earners, will bring us all back to prosperity."

"Think and work with enthusiasm and without worrying about depression."

"Fear of unemployment by persons now employed is largely unfounded, Chanin said, since most of those who still have jobs will keep them."

MEALS WILL BE SOLD FOR 2 CENTS

ATLANTA, Ga., Nov. 24.—UP.—A charity movement of great social significance will begin operation tomorrow when a community kitchen serves food to the needy poor at the rate of two cents a meal.

The plan originated by J. R. Rix, president of the Atlanta Rescuers association, provides three hot meals, complete vitamins and calories, to be carried out of the kitchen in the pails and to be consumed in the privacy of homes.

The "bucket" cafeteria is expected to prevent the kitchen from becoming a meeting place of vagrants and undesirables. At the same time it provides a square meal for every "worthy" person in Atlanta, since Rix told the United Press today "any person who is too lazy to come down here and get it deserves to go to bed hungry."

Tickets for meals are sold at two cents each and already the citizenry has begun clamoring for them, intrigued by the idea of feeding five persons for ten cents a day.

Mr. Citizen is arming himself with tickets to appease the person who stop him on the streets asking for the price of a cup of coffee.

SANTA FE FIVE IN CITY LOOP VICTORY

The Santa Fe quintet last night went into a one-victory lead in the Richmond City basketball league by defeating the McRacken outfit, 21 to 17 in a whirlwind affair.

The Civic Center Tires triumphed over Ben Malikis by a score of 28 to 21 in an extra quarter clash last evening.

Santa Fe was unable to break through the McRacken defense during the first quarter, with the result that the McRacken squad was leading 5 to 1 at the end of that period. However, in the second quarter Santa Fe began working under the McRacken basket, and the score at half time stood 10 to 9 in favor of McRacken's.

The third quarter was all Santa Fe. The railroad men began to rush deep into enemy territory, and the sensational long shots of Elmer Nelson commenced to send the Santa Fe scoring column skywards. Santa Fe was leading 15 to 10 at the end of the third quarter.

The final quarter was a wild affair, both teams delivering smashing attacks that often came to grief on excellent defenses. Santa Fe maintained its shooting power in this period, and the McRacken boys were still trailing desperately when the final whistle blew.

For the first time this season, three Nelson brothers appeared on the Santa Fe lineup on one night. John, Elmer and Heinie all showed the regular Nelson speed last night, John putting in a stellar performance at guard, Heinie tapping the ball at center, and Elmer sinking the ball from all corners of the floor to take high point honors for Santa Fe with a total of 10 points.

Tule and Babe Roche both did much to place Santa Fe on top of the pile, while Bob Bowen covered his goal well during the final quarter.

Although coming out second best last night, the McRacken warriors showed excellent form. Barbieri began to get back into his regular shooting form, while Gillan sent a scare into the ranks of Santa Fe supporters during the final quarter by slipping under the Santa Fe basket with almost fatal results.

Husefka, Hall and Flynn all made up a nice offensive team, while MacLaughlin, Lee and Millicovich made it extremely difficult for the Santa Fe forwards to work into their territory.

By winning their game last night, the Santa Fe athletes gained their lead in the A division of the league. McRacken's and Odd Fellows are now tied for second place with Studebakers bringing up the rear.

The Civic Center Tires had a thrilling battle on their hands last evening when they met and finally vanquished the determined Ben Malik aggregation. The score was tied 4 to 4 at half time. The Civic Center Tires slipped into a 13 to 11 lead by the end of the third quarter. The precarious lead switched backwards and forwards between the two teams several times during the last half, and the score was tied 20 to 20 at the end of the game, thereby necessitating an extra period. In this extra quarter the Clothers seemed to tire, and Civic Center boys swarmed under their goal to pile up a seven point lead.

There will be no City League contest Thursday evening because of the Thanksgiving vacation.

The Santa Fe lineup last night included: Tule 2, E. Nelson, 10, forwards; H. Nelson 4, center; J. Nelson 3, B. Roche 2, R. Bowen, guards.

The McRacken squad included: Husefka, Barbieri 7, Hall 1, forwards; Gillan 9, MacLaughlin, Flynn, Lee, and Millicovich, guards.

The Civic Center Tires were: Randall, Sassone 10, Ferguson 2, Seawright, Heeger, forwards; Roveda 7, center; Williams 9, Bumgarner, guards.

The Ben Malik squad consisted of: Dotson 5, Murdock 5, Damon 2, forwards; Kenny 5, Goldsworthy, centers; Pfeister, Damon 2, Potts 1, Do'on 1, guards.

Many Injured As Peruvian Students Riot

LIMA, Peru, Nov. 24.—UP.—Several persons were wounded tonight when students and workers attacked a group of social union (Fascist) members holding a demonstration in the plaza San Martin.

The students and workers, radically opposed to the new military junta's revised cabinet, attacked a social unionist demonstration in favor of the new administration.

The students and workers attacked with a volley of stones. The social unionists replied by firing revolvers into the air at first, and then firing into the advancing ranks of their antagonists.

The clash lasted only about three minutes, but the students and workers forced the social unionists to leave the square, breaking up the demonstration.

Scores of Americans and other foreigners witnessed the clash, which occurred in front of the Hotel Bolivar in the Plaza San Martin. The hotel has been filled with refugees from the Cerro d' Pasco mines, feared to flee when native miners struck and saged anti-foreign outbreaks.

LEGION ELEVEN TIES WITH ASHBYS

The final contest of the Richmond American Legion football season ended in a seven to seven tie with the Ashby club of Oakland Sunday afternoon on the Richmond union high school field.

The contest was a fairly even affair, both teams showing a great improvement over their exhibition in their earlier game of the season, which they tied six to six.

The local boys displayed the greatest driving ability of the two teams during the first half of Sunday's game. In this half, the Richmond warriors reached the Ashby 35 yard line, and then Freeman, fullback, raced around end for a touchdown. The extra point was tacked by Clark, halfback, who plunged over tackle.

In the final half, the Ashby gridders began to show more power and prevented the Richmond team from driving far into their territory. The visitors made their touchdown in the third quarter, when they blocked a Richmond punt, and recovered the ball over the Richmond goal line. They tied the game with a successful place kick.

The local team functioned well Sunday afternoon. The line smashing of Clark and Freeman was a strong asset to the Richmond eleven, while the local line held to better effect than it has done probably all the rest of the season.

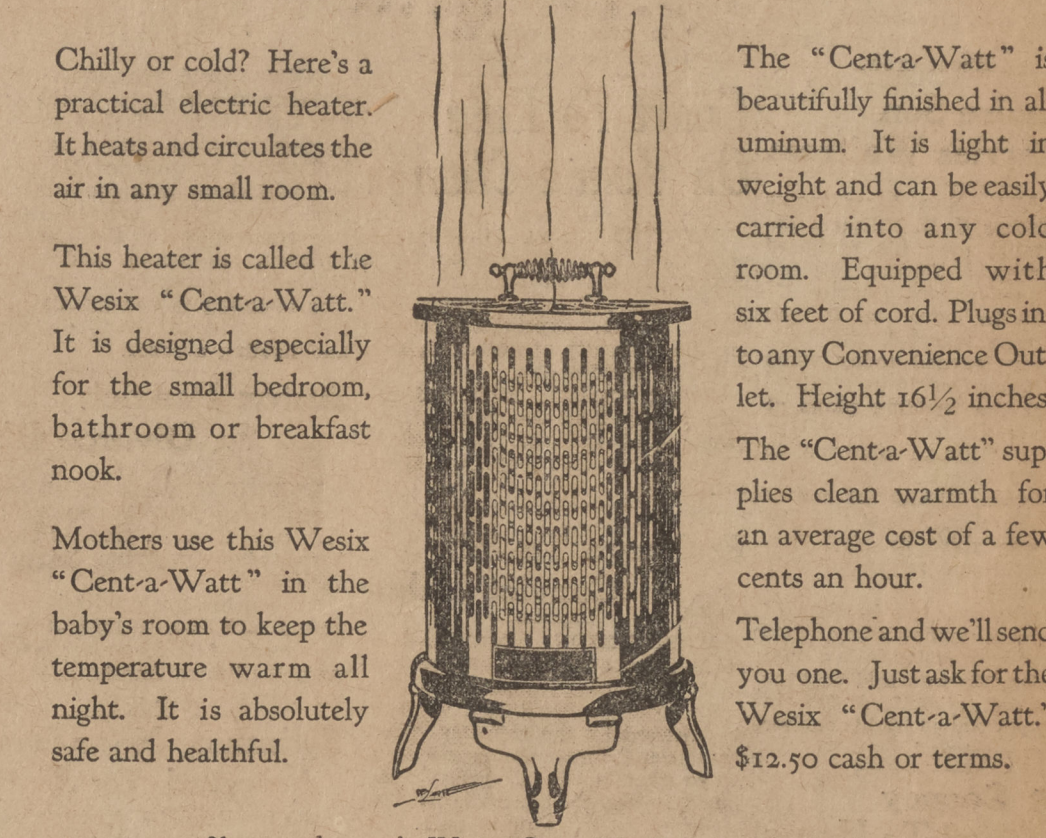

The 1930 season of the Richmond American Legion football squad came to a close Sunday. It has been a fairly successful season, with the wins and the losses almost equally divided. The locals have won four games, lost three, and tied two. Such a record is one to be proud of, if the experienced competition the Richmond boys were facing is taken into consideration. The Richmond aggregation was this year coached by Claude Samples.

The starting lineup for Richmond on Sunday included: Mayer, center; Peters and Nichol, guards; Adecock and Carson, tackles; Cooper and Jester, ends; Cornell, quarter; Youngs and Clark, halfbacks, and Freeman, fullback.

ARIZONA STATE TRAIN LAW SCORED

PHOENIX, Ariz., Nov. 24.—UP—Arizona's train law limiting passenger trains to 14 cars, causes delays in transportation of United States mails, E. C. McCarty of Winslow, Ariz., superintendent of the Albuquerque division of the Santa Fe railroad, testified today at resumption of hearing contesting the constitutionality of the law.

He added that delays on transcontinental schedules averaged from five to 24 minutes at Needles, Calif., and Gallup, N. M., where trains are said to comply with the Arizona ruling.

It has been necessary on several occasions, McCarty said, to run two sections of a passenger train across the state because of the statute. This procedure, he declared, entailed additional costs. The special upon arrival at Gallup or Needles would be consolidated with the regular train.

While the state law also limits the number of cars on a freight train to 70, little was discussed at this angle. McCarty was on the stand for the whole session, and said an engine can pull trains, limited by Arizona's law, with two-thirds of its power.

GIRL DYING IN 'DARE' LEAP

ALAMEDA, Nov. 24.—Miss Lydia Ramos, 15, daughter of a wealthy coffee planter of San Salvador, is believed to be dying in the Alameda sanatorium following a leap from the second story window of a local private school on a "dare" from other students. She suffered a broken back and a fractured ankle.

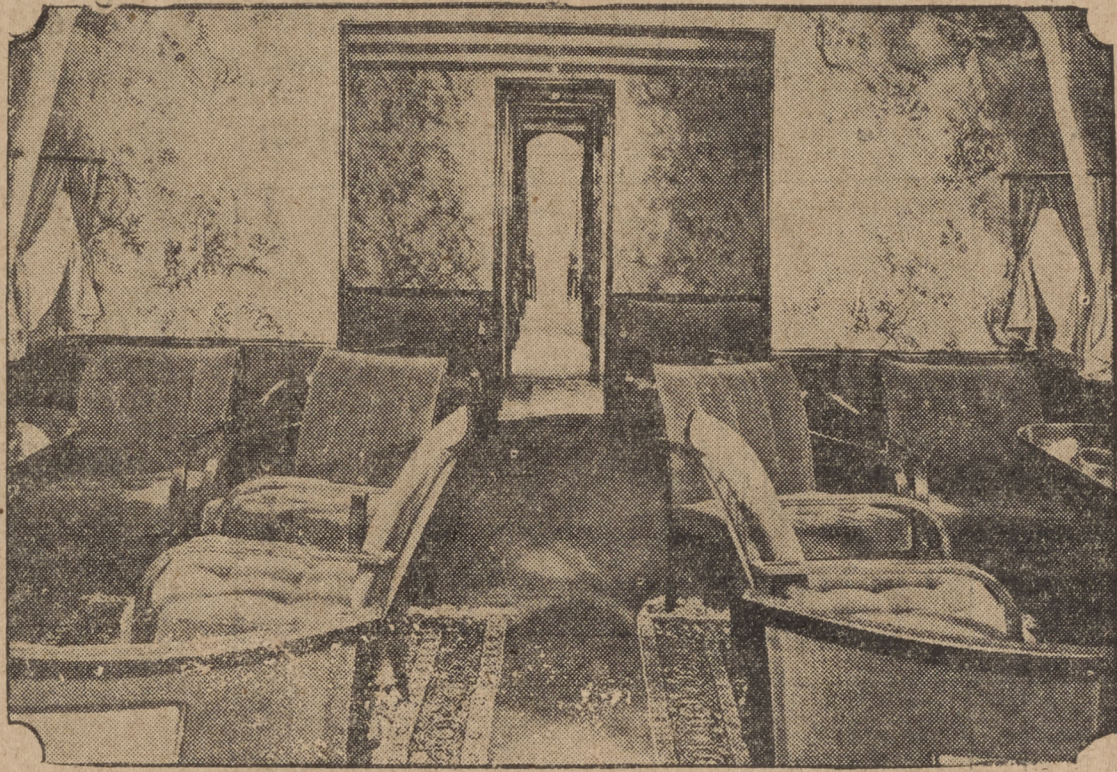

The girl jumped the 25 feet to the ground below on being dared by a group of girls to make the leap, according to Mrs. Lona Hazard, head of the school. Mrs. Hazard rushed out on hearing the girl's screams, found her on the ground, and called an ambulance. The girl is the daughter of a wealthy plantation owner of San Salvador. She has been boarding for three years at the local school, and is under the guardianship of a brother, William Ramos, of Reno.

YOUNG FLIER FORCED DOWN

TUCSON, Ariz., Nov. 24.—UP—Gerald Nettleton, youthful aviator attempting a new east-west junior transcontinental speed record, arrived here by automobile late today after his plane had been forced down by motor trouble near Benson, Ariz., 40 miles east of Tucson.

Nettleton said the rocker arm boxes of his motor had failed and new ones were required. He landed in the desert without mishap. Nettleton, who took off from El Paso earlier in the day, had planned to refuel at Yuma, Ariz., and head directly for Los Angeles. Spare parts were secured at the Tucson municipal airport and he said he will return to the plane in the morning to make repairs. Nettleton estimated he must average 112 miles an hour for the remainder of his flight in order to lower the record now held by Stanley Boynton of Mexington, Mass.

ASSISTANT D. A. TELLS OF BRIBES

NEW YORK, Nov. 24.—UP—Admitting that in eight years he had received $20,000 in bribes, John C. Weston, who served as an assistant district attorney, provided an unexpected sensation today at the opening of public hearings in the appellate division's investigation into magistrates' courts of Manhattan and the Bronx. The bribes came largely from lawyers defending women charged with prostitution, Weston said. Although sworn to prosecute the women, Weston declared he had accepted money from 21 attorneys. Weston said the five attorneys who had contributed most of the bribes were Alexander Karp, Mark Alter, Emanuel Busch and Philip Roston, partners, and Joseph Aronstein. All have offices in "Lawyer's Row," opposite the women's court.

JANE ADDAMS SEES CRISIS FINISH

CHICAGO, Nov. 24.—UP—The nation's great wealth will enable it to weather the present unemployment crisis, Jane Addams, famous social worker, and founder of Hull House, believes, but the emergency is a "national disaster equal to any flood, earthquake or plague."

"More and more of the nation's resources are being used to provide work or give aid to the destitute," Mrs. Addams said. "The government, business and charitable agencies are doing their utmost. Soon we may hope to combine efficiently the work of these groups and to educate the public in the seriousness of the situation. Then we may hope to deal with the unemployment crisis as we would with any other disaster."

The attitude of big business in refraining from reducing wages at a time when thousands of workers would be forced to accept meager salaries exemplifies the spirit of the nation in the crisis, the famous social worker believes.

She praised newspaper campaigns to find jobs and the formation of government commissions to provide relief.

"Doubtless," Miss Addams said, "the United States will deliver its poorer classes from this emergency. At present we are in the position of having too much to eat while thousands of persons are hungry and without funds to buy food."

"The fact that America has 900,000,000 pairs of shoes in storage is an example of the present situation. Not more than 500,000,000 pairs—three sets for every person—are used yearly."

She nodded toward an elderly man who stood, hat in hand, just outside the door of her room. His shoes were bound up with wire and the soles rudely patched with canvas.

"Our nation's great wealth will enable us to weather the present crisis," she said, "but it will not prevent similar circumstances in another 10 or 20 years."

"The only permanent solution, I believe, is government insurance against unemployment. Without reverting to the actual dole system, we could use that means to guarantee our people a comfortable living in times of depression."

E. T. Seton Will Become Citizen Of United States

DENVER, Colo., Nov. 24.—UP—After living in the United States 47 years, Ernest Thompson Seton, well-known writer, artist and lecturer, has filed a preliminary application for citizenship with the naturalization bureau here, it was announced by officials of the bureau today.

Hearing on the application will be held at Santa Fe, N. M., some time in December.

Born in South Shields, England, Aug. 14, 1860, Seton came to the United States in November, 1883, and has lived in this country since.

His wife is a former resident of Sacramento, Calif.

Mrs. Minnie Kennedy, mother of Aimee, was seen leaving her nearby apartment during the day.

"I haven't seen sister since she got back," she said. "I am sorry to hear that she is ill."

It was said at the temple that Mrs. McPherson's illness, is a recurrence of the breakdown she suffered last summer. At the time she and her mother were both said to have undergone face lifting operations. Mrs. Kennedy claimed that Aimee had knocked her down in an argument.

Aimee Rests
After resting at Malibu Beach, Aimee went into seclusion in a house in Santa Monica canyon and then went to visit friends in New Hampshire. She also made a trip to Havana.

As to her present condition, there was only the report of business manager Winters on which to rely. Dr. Edward Williams, who attended Mrs. McPherson during the summer, said he had not been called. Winters said that two physicians were to be consulted.

In a statement, Winters said that he met Mrs. McPherson and her party in New York a week ago and that she was very weary. After a rest, however, it was believed she could make the trip west, he said. The statement continued:

"She was unconscious when she reached Pasadena, and, although she has been unconscious a great deal of the time, she is feeling somewhat better and we hope that a few days rest at this lower altitude will see a much greater improvement."

California To Be Advertised By Big Bank

California communities and the advantages of California for industry and as a place of residence will be featured by the Bank of America in a series of striking advertisements in national publications.

President A. J. Mount, in announcing the extension of the bank's advertising program into the national field, announced that the first of these advertisements will appear in December.

"While the main purpose of the campaign is to make known to our thousands of friends in eastern and midwestern territory the facts of the consolidation of the Bank of Italy and Bank of America of California," Mount explained, "we feel that we can well afford to donate a portion of our advertising space to the state that has done so much for both institutions."

"Our advertising is keyed to invite inquiries from industries and individuals intending to come to California. Through our intimate contacts in 243 California cities, comprising the centers of industry and agriculture, we are exceptionally well equipped to supply such facts as businessmen and others would want to know before deciding upon a location in the state."

NO DEATHS IN FLOOD IN TEXAS

CORPUS CHRISTI, Tex., Nov. 24.—UP—Flood waters receded to the normal confines of the Nueces river tonight as searching parties surveyed damage done by rushing waters released from Lake Lovenskiold near here Sunday when the Mathis dam crashed.

Courageous work of a telephone operator and of deputy sheriffs who spread an alarm through the fertile river valley when the dam first broke, was believed to have prevented loss of life. Estimates of the damage indicated it would not exceed $250,000. Damage to Mathis dam, which impounded Corpus Christi's water supply in a 7000-acre lake, was estimated at $1000. One thousand head of livestock and hundreds of chickens were drowned.

Farmers, driven from their homes when the river flooded over the section, tonight returned to find their homes intact. Several had been inundated. Reports indicated the water had risen slowly from the river bed and spent its fury before reaching the settled part of the valley.

GAS, ELECTRIC RATES CUT IN L.A.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 24.—UP—A drastic reduction of gas and electric rates for customers of the Los Angeles Gas and Electric company was ordered by the State Railroad Commission here today.

It is estimated that residents of Los Angeles will save $2,100,000 a year in the new schedule.

The commission ordered that gas rates be reduced nine percent and electric rates seven percent.

This will probably result in a reduction of $1,350,000 in the company's revenue for gas and $750,000 for electricity.

The commission in its ruling said that it has long regarded seven percent a fair return, and claimed Angeles Gas and Electric company had been receiving a return of 8.26 percent from 1916 to 1929 and 9.5 percent recently.

BANDIT ROBS YOUNG GIRL OF $3595

SEATTLE, Nov. 24.—UP—An unidentified young bandit, well-dressed got away with $3595 in cash here today when he jerked a satchel containing the money out of the hands of Miss Coana Imbery, 22 year old Lowman and Hanford payroll clerk.

The young payroll clerk had just obtained the money from the Seattle National Bank when the robbery occurred. As she walked to her car, the bandit stepped up to her and took her arm.

"Come on," he ordered, "we'll walk across the street. All you need to do is keep quiet."

As the couple reached the other side of the street, the robber jerked the satchel containing the money from Miss Imbery's hands, stepped into a waiting automobile and drove rapidly away.

Miss Imbery at first broke into tears, then began screaming and shouting for aid. Police and pedestrians flocked around her, but no trace of the bandit automobile was obtained. Miss Imbery was close to a hysterical state, and police were unable to get a complete account of the robbery.

"Today but few people realize the potential value of intense scientific research work, particularly when carried on by successful corporations with ample capital at their disposal. I do not smoke; but a perusal of the reports made to you by qualified experts indicates that your use of the Ultra Violet Ray in connection with your Toasting Process, in the manufacture of Lucky Strike Cigarettes, thereby removing certain irritants which might otherwise be present in tobacco, has opened a new era for common-sense smokers."

Everyone knows that sunshine mellows—that's why TOASTING includes the use of the Ultra Violet Ray. LUCKY STRIKE—the finest cigarette you ever smoked, made of the finest tobaccos—the Cream of the Crop—THEN—"IT'S TOASTED." Everyone knows that heat purifies and so TOASTING removes harmful irritants that cause throat irritation and coughing. No wonder 20,679 physicians have stated LUCKIES to be less irritating!

How the Y. W. C. A. Helps Girls to Meet the Unemployment Situation: Energetic Employment Bureaus, Cheaper Food and Housing, Training Classes, Aid to Morale

A SIXTEEN-YEAR-OLD GIRL swallowed a bottle of poison in New York the other day. When she had been rushed to the hospital she told detectives that she had been out of work for several months, and that her family kept nagging her about it.

Her pitiful story is merely one dramatic illustration of the tragedy of unemployment as it affects thousands of other New York girls. They should not be forgotten, these working—or workless—young things, in the public concentration on unemployed male heads of families. For many a gallant daughter of New York is not merely "self-supporting," she is the support of parents, or of younger brothers and sisters. Investigations by the Women's Bureau of the Department of Labor have proved that unmarried daughters, on the average, give more of their earnings to their families than do unmarried sons. As Mrs. William Henry Hays, president of the New York Y. W. C. A., has just pointed out, often the only wage-earning member of a family may be the daughter of the family.

Mrs. Hays estimates that of the 220,000 girls served by the Y. W. C. A. practically every one is affected by the unemployment situation, either through the loss of her own job, reduction in salary, or the need of supporting one or more members of her family who are out of work.

HOW are girls in New York being helped to meet the present crisis? Obviously, it's a woman's job to make life easier for them, and the job has been taken on, with earnestness and resourcefulness, by the women in charge of Y. W. C. A. activities.

Employment bureaus are not only doing their utmost to find positions, but have arranged rooms with typewriters where girls out of work may practice typing, or take and transcribe dictation as a means of maintaining their skill and increasing their speed. Fees are being waived when necessary for courses which will be of assistance to the girl when she secures a job.

The residences conducted by the Y. W. C. A. are charging the lower permanent rates for all of the rooms, instead of the transient rates to girls who stay for a week or more, and the cafeterias and dining rooms have lowered their prices. There are special plate lunches for as little as nineteen cents.

NEXT to getting a job for an unemployed girl, keeping up her morale is one of the best things that can be done for her. Any girl who has ever been out of work for any length of time knows the feelings of sick helplessness, of black discouragement about her capabilities, of despair for her future, which she has to fight off while she is waiting for an opening. The Y. W. C. A. is trying, in many ways, to help her in this fight.

For morale boosting, one "branch" offers free use of its beauty parlor, to enable girls to make themselves look smart and prosperous before applying for work. Before anyone makes sarcastic about this service, let him consult employment experts as to the absolute necessity of "putting up a front," even for the unemployed.

In connection with the "Y" employment department there is a special recreation room, where girls who have waited for jobs day after day with ever-dwindling hope may forget temporarily their troubles by playing games or listening to music. One "Y" branch has a definite afternoon program between two and four, with music, games, occasionally tea, and always sympathetic hostesses to whom any perplexed girl may unfold her problems. There are such free recreational activities as games, dancing, organ recitals and teas, to keep up the spirits of girls, at all the six Y. W. C. A. branches: Bronx, Central, Harlem, International Institute, West One Hundred and Thirty-Seventh Street for Colored Women and West Side Branch.

"The Y. W. C. A. must look after these girls," says its president. "We treat every girl who comes to us as an individual problem and do our best to help her, to give her a sympathetic interest and understanding and to help her meet her problem with courage and with sanity."

As long as there is a great surplus supply of eggs, as there is at present, they will continue reasonable in price and the problem of making the kitchen budget provide pleasant surprises as well as plenty of nourishing, wholesome food will be quite simple.

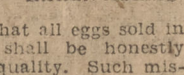

Eggs and milk are indispensable in the diet, and should be the first items on the daily list of supplies for the kitchen. And in buying eggs it is well for the housewife to familiarize herself with their grading so she will know exactly what she is buying.

A law provides that all eggs sold in New York State shall be honestly represented as to quality. Such misleading terms as "invalid eggs," "strictly fresh" or "new laid" have been discarded in favor of definite grading. All retailers are required by law to label their eggs with the grade names established by the government. These are "Fancy," "Grade A," "Grade B" and "Grade C."

"Fancy" grade eggs are on the market only in very small quantities and sell at the top price. These are suitable for every use and are particularly good for poaching or soft boiling. They are recommended for invalids.

"Grade A" eggs represent a good quality for every purpose. "Grade B" eggs, which comprise the bulk of eggs in the market, should not be used for poaching, but may be used for omelets, for scrambling and in

BAKED EGGS IN GREEN PEPPERS
2 green peppers (large)
2 cups milk
3 tablespoons butter
3 tablespoons flour
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon pepper
Dash paprika
2 tablespoons grated cheese
4 eggs

Split the peppers lengthwise and clean out seeds and pulp. Make a white sauce by melting butter, adding flour and stirring constantly as milk is added. Season with salt and pepper. Arrange the pepper halves in a baking dish, pour white sauce in them, and drop an egg in each one. Sprinkle grated cheese over each one. Add a dash of paprika, and bake in a moderate oven for about eight minutes or until egg is well set. A delicious variation of this recipe which provides a nourishing luncheon dish is to add canned corn to the white sauce in the bottom of the pepper shells.

Wooling Sleep

LET those who do not believe sleep to be a beautifier, try staying awake a few nights—or get acquainted with an insomniac. Hollow eyes, pasty skin, leanness, jitteriness, these are the signs of sleeplessness—and the reason why we talk about the subject in this column.

We can tell you about the newest lipstick and the oldest and best way to iron out a wrinkle, but it will avail you little if you do not sleep of nights. And so we are going to tell you—you who need to know—the art of sleeping like a babe.

It begins with learning to quiet down your brain. For when your brain is quiet you are quiet. So no exciting books at bedtime and no worrying or planning, nothing but a pleasant, dreamy mood. Preferably nothing—if you can manage to achieve a state of nothingness.

Once in a spirit of the utmost helpfulness we made the aforementioned suggestion to an insomniac we know. And all we got for our pains was, "But how can I? My brain is so active!"

A little later we switched the topic to mealtime beverages. And just as we suspected none of this lady's meals was complete without tea or coffee! Had she substituted a glass of warm milk, a cup of chocolate or any other of the non-stimulating beverages in existence she would have found that her brain was quite capable of dreaminess and she herself much less a stay-awake.

And had she been really in earnest about making herself a sound sleeper, she would have treated herself to a light bedtime snack of some nerve-quieting food. Onions and celery are really wonderful for the purpose. Then there is warm milk, which everybody knows about, excepting the insomniacs, it seems.

The warm bath is a marvelously soothing thing too, only some people having little or no temperature sense, make the mistake of taking a hot bath. To be sure, nothing is more awakening than a piping hot tub. Try and sleep after one!

Worse than insomnia is the fear of insomnia, because it makes correction of the ill doubly difficult. You can very easily see for yourself. We should not therefore prate about our troubles or even think about it. We should not let the sleepless be much given to. After all, you know, the body must have a certain amount of rest or it just won't go on. And if one does not get one's sleep at the proper time or in the proper place, well, one gets it at a dull movie!

Nothing tragic about it, nothing to worry about, just an inconvenience which can be overcome by the right sort of thinking, eating, drinking and habits. In a word, by sound health of body and mind.

Don't Overdress if You Live in the Suburbs

Country Clothes Being the Best American Clothes Let Mrs. Suburbia Stick to Them

By Ann Roberts

have a tweed topcoat of monotone or duotone tweed along with a one-piece cloth dress. Don't forget the angora dresses. They are awfully becoming and very good style.

If you can't stand wool next to your skin and must have silk, then let it be one of the tunic dresses with a bright top—not gold or silver embroidered or anything of that tussy sort.

Sunday Afternoons and Nights.

AT THE club or at a private house the Sunday afternoon tea in the suburbs still stays more or less in the sporty class, where the smartest crowds are concerned. But if you must make an exception because your group is not so terribly sporty, then wear a bright colored crepe frock under your fur coat.

Black and white and gray are all right as long as they are in cloth and retain some sort of country atmosphere. I don't mean the gaily trimmed idea. Keep that for the more formal city life.

For Sunday night suppers the simplest sort of velvet dress or the plainest kind of chiffon—those of the triple variety, quite heavy, made with fine pin tucking and caplet sleeves.

Don't wear the skirts too long so that they get to be evening looking. Eight or ten inches from the ground is best. And keep them black with white or touches of bright color if you wish to look your very best. Not metals either—these are far too dressy for your country setting.

After all, the whole idea of the Sunday night supper is an informal one. It flourishes in the suburbs

FUR TOP COAT AND BRIGHT SILK DRESS AND A GRAY WOOL JERSEY FROCK

THE suburbs are in the country but a lot of women forget about that and go on dressing, when they live there, just as though they were city bound.

When country clothes are our best American clothes—when most of us look better in them than we do in any others, then why doesn't Mrs. Suburbia make the most of her situation and locality in life and stick to them relentlessly?

The smartest and most sophisticated of the Long Island set and the Westchester community dress in sports clothes the entire day no matter what they are doing. Yes, for tea too and for cocktail parties. You see rough tweeds and riding habits wherever you go.

Now, in town for tea you wear black velvet and black wool with lace and fur and all that. Don't do it in the suburbs. And don't get cold feet about wearing sports things just because those around you dress in fussy clothes.

I'm not writing this to be funny nor to imitate a smart Aleck, but really because I am anxious to give my knowledge to those who desire to make the most of themselves by way of their dressing.

When you get weak hearted in your good looking sports togs just remember that you, even if you stand all alone, are the representation of good taste—a well bred woman with a fine sense of values and that, as sure as fate, you will stand out and be appreciated and that you will be able to surround yourself with the superior type of women which, after all, are the only ones who are going to bring you any quota of uplift or inspiration.

Afternoon or Luncheon

DON'T wear black velvet or fluffy chiffon when you're going to other people's houses for luncheon or tea on a week-day. No lace yokes or what is termed in today's advertising pages, "romantic clothes." But wear a simple tailored suit if suits are becoming to you. This in tweed or jersey or any of the more roughly finished woollens. Wear a jersey blouse—white or in the color of your suit—violet rose, turquoise blue or yellow. You can wear a satin one or one of flat crepe if you wish, following the same general rule for assembling the color scheme.

With this you wear your plain ties—a simply blocked felt hat or a beret or a turban draped from the same material from which your suit is made.

If a suit is not your style then

GOOD TYPE OF VELVET DRESS FOR SUNDAY NIGHT SUPPERS

When Father Is Carving

CARVING the turkey is an embarrassing task to many men and even the most skillful carver is apt to lose his confidence if he discovers that he is the center of attention.

However, it is quite natural to watch the carver unless the guest happens to be of a sympathetic nature or is well versed in matters of etiquette.

The tactful hostess will usually consider the carver and engage the interest of the others at the table while the act of carving is in process. Of course, no remarks or suggestions on carving are heard at the table where good manners are the rule.

In short, the carver is placed in the class with the children who there are guests. He should be ignored at the table.

SNAPPING OUT OF A COMA

FOOTBALL trainers ask a player a series of simple questions after he has been laid out. The idea is to determine if the athlete is capable of continuing in the game. Here's the way it often works out when the player is none too bright at his best:

TRAINER—Do you feel all right?

PLAYER—Never felt better. Lemme stay in and tear off another touchdown.

TRAINER—You're sure that knock in the head didn't affect you?

PLAYER—Naw! It was just like being cooked with a sofa pillow.

TRAINER—What day is it today, then?

PLAYER—It's the day of the game.

TRAINER—I know, but what DAY is it?

PLAYER—It's pay day.

TRAINER—If you never mind the day, what month is it, then?

PLAYER—I can't remember the month, doc, but no kidding, I'm all right.

TRAINER—Tell me what season it is if you can't remember the month.

PLAYER—That's easy. It's springtime.

TRAINER—What makes you think so?

PLAYER—I just heard the band play "When It's Springtime in the Rockies."

TRAINER—I'm afraid I'll have to take you out.

PLAYER—Please don't, doc. I'm going on all six now.

TRAINER—That knock didn't hurt your head, tell me how much three and two is.

PLAYER—Don't ask me tough ones like that, doc. I ain't specializing in mathematics.

TRAINER—Who is the President, then?

PLAYER—The President of what?

TRAINER—The President of the United States.

PLAYER—Aw, I dunno. I don't read the Library Digest.

TRAINER—If you're in your right mind, what's the score of the game?

PLAYER—I don't keep track of the scores, doc, but I'm all right—honest.

TRAINER—Come on; you'd better rest up on the bench.

PLAYER—I'm O. K., I tell you. Ask me something simple.

TRAINER—If you're you, then?

PLAYER—Thirty-four, but I'm down on the program as nineteen.

TRAINER—And you can't tell me what day it is?

PLAYER—All I can remember is that yesterday was Friday.

$130,000 SENT TO YULE CLUB MEMBERS

A total of 1700 checks addressed to members of the Christmas club of the Mechanics Bank of Richmond, are in the mail today. This total represents the sum of $130,000, according to officials of the local bank.

The Christmas club at the Mechanics bank this year is the second largest in the eastbay region, it was reported yesterday.

The average check sent out by the bank yesterday was for $102. Some were larger, while others were smaller.

It was stated that the checks sent out slightly earlier this year, in order that some of the money might be used for tax payments. From previous experience it is expected that about 40 percent of the money sent to club members this year will be turned into savings accounts while 60 percent will be spent for Christmas gifts and taxes.

Prospects that the 1931 Christmas club at the local bank will be the biggest in the history of the institution were seen yesterday when it was revealed that 200 new members were enrolled so far this week. January 15 is the last day for enrollment with the Christmas clubs.

Some of the members of the club are doubling this amount for the next club. Those who saved one dollar a week this year are planning on saving two, while those who had two dollar accounts are planning five dollar weekly savings.

Richmond Man Sets Record For Romance

Although he had only known her two days, Royal S. Parkhurst, of Richmond made Miss Vera Henke, freshman student at Colorado Women's college his wife in a ceremony at Denver last week.

The marriage was to have been secret, but authorities at the college informed the girls parents, Mr. and Mrs. O. R. Henke of Wheatland, Wyo., and the young man went to that place to get the approval along with his wife, who had preceded him.

It was reported yesterday that the parent's approval had been given to the match and the young couple will probably return to the city some time after the first of January.
